

Home Turned Christmas Light Spectacular

Stefanie Tiso

Story Created: Dec 24, 2008 at 6:39 PM CST

Story Updated: Dec 24, 2008 at 7:14 PM CST

The Ludy's Christmas really does last throughout the year.

"Work year round on this," said Jerry Ludy.

Getting a light display of more than 70,000 bulbs up and running, means it's time to get serious, come September.

"Keep adding very year so, we have to start a little bit earlier each time because it's more of the display we have to add."

And being prepared to switch the wonderland of lights on, on Thanksgiving. It's a tradition that's become a family affair for the Ludys.

"All my children have been involve with it. I'm not getting any younger so it's good that I'm going to be able to pass this on," said Ludy.

While Santa leans his ear to take Christmas wishes, Jerry's son Keith directs traffic up and down the narrow, busy street. A donation box in the driveway. Demonstrating the true meaning of the season.

"Last year we incorporated by bringing Make a Wish Foundation into our display. We raised over $1800 this year we've actually set a goal of 4,000."

He's no electrical engineer. But jerry has computerized his lights, sinking blinks with music. And actually saving on his electric bill. Even with technology like this he isn't immune to technical difficulties.

"We had a receptacle that practically ha a melt down. And so we shut down part of the display and we had to go in and get the repairs done and we were up and running in about 30 minutes."

There is still time for you to check all this out for yourself. The display runs through New Years Eve. The address is 5784 Ironstone Drive.

Find this article at:

<http://www.wltz.com/news/local/36710674.html>